

MICHELLE NG HAY-MAN
Tel: +44 7832 433854 / +852 98852957
Email: michelle.hmng@gmail.com

EDUCATION

Bachelor in Sociology

2013 - 2016

The Chinese University of Hong Kong

- Committee member of The Society of Sociology

WORK / RELEVANT EXPERIENCE

Reporter

2018 Apr - 2021 Jun

Apple Daily (International online news team)

- Foreign news translation
(Integrated English news from overseas media and transcreated Chinese online news reports for HK audience)
(Duty includes sourcing and writing a news story within 1.5hr and writing up daily instant news updates for online publication)
- Covered in-depth stories specifically on gender and medical issues
- Conducted interviews with international relation professionals to compose analytical news reports
- Editing freelance reporters' articles
- Practical skills in photoshop

Junior Research Assistant

2017 Jan - 2018 Mar

Hong Kong Institute of Asia-Pacific Studies, CUHK

- Coordinated a qualitative research project on understanding the learning experience of undergraduate students from different academic pathways.
- Recruited and interviewed participants
- Composed short reports for analysis
- Led a student helper team to complete transcription work

Reporter/Editor (Education column)

2016 Jun - 2017 Jan

Wen Wei Po Daily News

- Covered daily news including interviewing in fields and press conferences
- Interviewed scientists awarded prizes from the Croucher Foundation and reported stories of their research
- Composed feature stories on the non-profit organisation Teach for HK and elite students awarded with Hong Kong Scholarship for Excellence Scheme
- Practical skills in editing, typesetting & photo-taking

Member

Since 2012

The Association for the Advancement of Feminism (AAF)

- Assisted in website article translation
- Participated in fund-raising campaigns
- Devoted in promoting gender equality

Others: Proficient in writing traditional Chinese, speaking Cantonese, Mandarin and English (IELTS band: 7.5), basic Photoshop skills